WEBINAR ON THE ENERGY COMMUNITY IN KYTHIRA

The installation of several dozen industrial wind turbines in Kythira proposed by major energy companies has been the source of significant debate on the island for the past few months. Concerns have been mounting for the consequences and impact these wind turbines will have on tourism, health, construction, agriculture, and, of course, the environment.

The need for keeping the greatest possible number of Kythirians and friends of Kythira informed on the project's developments, as well as exploring alternative energy options has led the Kythira Wind Turbines Information Group to organize a conference on energy communities. The conference, which will be an online videoconference (webinar) due to conditions imposed by the pandemic, will take place on 27th March 2021, at 16.00 in the afternoon, and is expected to last approximately 3 hours.

The webinar will take place on Zoom's videocall platform. You will also be able to follow the webinar on Facebook and YouTube, and it will of course be broadcasted on local radio.

The webinar will open with a speech from Kythira's Mayor, Mr E. Charchalakis (who will also conclude the event). Other speakers will include the President of the Domestic Wealth Board Mr E. Venardos, renewable energy specialists, a representative from an existing energy community, the president of KIPA, lawyers, the representative for Dynamo Kythira, and Presidents of the island's agriculture co-ops.

The full program and details on how to watch the online information conference will be made available in the coming days.
